

Mont Blanc pens

Last Updated Monday, 09 April 2007

Mont Blanc pens are world famous. They can be identified by exquisite shapes, elaborate design, understated elegance, excellent quality and, of course, by the white stylized six-pointed star with rounded edges, symbolizing the Mont Blanc (“White Mountain”) snowcap from above, the official logo of Montblanc International GmbH.

Montblanc is a German manufacturer of fine writing instruments, that was founded by a Hamburg stationer in 1906. It was initially called the Simplo Filler Pen company, but changed its name to Montblanc in 1911.

Since the very beginning the company has been manufacturing some of the world's most remarkable writing instruments. The most popular Mont Blanc pens are those that belong to the so called Meisterstück line. Meisterstück is German for ‘masterpiece’ and everybody can admit that the title suits these legendary Mont Blanc pens at best. Each pen is a real masterpiece. Though the company has established some new lines, none of them has surpassed the iconic status of the Meisterstück. The distinctive feature of the Meisterstück is the central inscribed ring with two plain and thinner equidistant rings, traditionally made of gold, above and below. Exquisite manufacturing makes Monc Blanc pens luxurious and legendary writing instruments among fountain pens.

The new generation of Mont Blanc pens is presented by the StarWalker collection. With StarWalker the company keeps to the tradition of producing pens of magnificent and matchless design with true master craftsmanship. The collection contains a fountain pen, ballpoint pen, mechanical pencil and a fineliner pen. These new Mont Blanc pens are innovative, gorgeous, compact and comfortable. Just take it in your hand and you will never forget how it feels! The pen is perfectly shaped and gives a real pleasure to use it. With Mont Blanc pens the mood for writing masterpieces is guaranteed.
